Executive Summary

Recent highlights for the Saskatchewan economy include the following:

Economic Growth and Forecasts

According to Statistics Canada's preliminary estimates released on April 26, 2013, Saskatchewan posted a Gross Domestic Product (GDP) at basic prices of $55.5 billion (B) (in 2007 chained dollars) in 2012. This represented an increase of 2.2% in real GDP, compared to 2011. Saskatchewan ranked third among the provinces in terms of percentage change.

A number of major economic forecasters expect Saskatchewan will lead most other provinces in economic growth in 2013 and 2014. For 2013, the average estimate for Saskatchewan is 2.7%, second among the provinces and above the national rate of 1.7%. Bank of Montreal (+2.4%), CIBC (+2.4%) and Conference Board of Canada (+3.5%) expect Saskatchewan's growth rate to be the second-highest among the provinces in 2013.

For 2014, the average real GDP growth forecast for Saskatchewan is 2.9%, second among the provinces and above the national rate of 2.5%. One of the seven forecasters expects Saskatchewan's growth rate to be the highest among the provinces in 2014, five say second.

According to the survey results released in June 2013 by Manpower Inc., a multi-national staffing company, employers in Saskatchewan are optimistic about the July to September 2013 period. Of the employers surveyed, 96% in Saskatoon and 93% in Regina expect staffing levels to increase or stay the same during that period. Among the 46 cities surveyed, Regina ranked third, while Saskatoon ranked twelfth.

Labour Market

In July 2013, Saskatchewan recorded the highest level of employment in history for the month of July, as the Labour Force Survey (LFS) showed that employment last month (seasonally-unadjusted) stood at 564,100, up by 21,500, or 4.0%, compared to July 2012 (542,600).

The seasonally-unadjusted unemployment rate was 4.5% in July 2013, down from 5.4% in July 2012, and was the lowest rate in Canada. The national unemployment rate was 7.4%, down from 7.5% in July 2012.

Production and Exports

In June 2013, manufacturing shipments in Saskatchewan were up by 0.8%, to $1.24B, compared to June 2012. In the first six months of 2013, the value of shipments totalled $7.6B, an increase of 5.0% compared to the same period in 2012.

In June 2013, compared to June 2012, Saskatchewan's potash production decreased by 15.7%, to 0.7 million (M) tonnes K₂O, while potash sales decreased by 18.8% to 0.7M tonnes K₂O. In the first six months of 2013, the province's potash production was up by 12.7% to 5.5M tonnes K₂O, while sales were up by 26.6% to 5.6M tonnes K₂O, compared to the same period in 2012.

In July 2013, oil production in Saskatchewan increased by 3.2% to 2.3M cubic metres, while natural gas production increased by 1.2% to 468.3M cubic metres, compared to July 2012. In the first seven months of 2013, production of oil increased by 2.8% to 16.1M cubic metres, while production of natural gas in the province decreased by 5.6% to 3.2B cubic metres, compared to the same period in 2012.

In June 2013, Saskatchewan's international exports of goods decreased by 11.7%, to $2.4B, down from $2.7B in June 2012. In the first six months of 2013, exports of goods increased by 4.3%, to $17.5B, compared to the same period in 2012 ($16.7B).

Investment and Construction

In 2012, capital investment in Saskatchewan increased by 6.5%, to a record level of $20.9B, compared to 2011, with $20.5B in capital investment expected for 2013.

In the second quarter of 2013, investment in non-residential construction in Saskatchewan totaled $428.5M, down by 0.4%, compared to $430.1M in the second quarter of 2012. In the first half of 2013, investment in non-residential construction in the province totalled $894.7M, an increase of 2.8%, compared to the same period in 2012.

The value of building permits issued in Saskatchewan was down by 5.1%, to $331.6M in June 2013 compared to June 2012. In the first six months of 2013, the value of building permits was down by 3.7%, compared to the same period in 2012.

The number of housing starts in Saskatchewan's urban centres increased by 13.4% in July 2013, compared to July 2012. In the first seven months of 2013, the number of housing starts in the province's urban centres was down by 10.5%, on average, compared to the same period in 2012.

Other Indicators

In June 2013, retail sales were up by 3.8% to $1.7B, compared to June 2012. In percentage terms, Saskatchewan ranked third among the provinces. During this period, wholesale trade totalled $2.3B, an increase of 2.0% over June 2012.

In June 2013, new motor vehicle sales in Saskatchewan increased by 7.9%, to 5,626 units, compared to June 2012.

Saskatchewan's average weekly earnings (including overtime) for all industries in June 2013 increased by 4.5%, or $40.59, to $939.28, compared to June 2012. The national average earnings increased by 2.8%, or $24.70, to $913.87 during the same month.

The province's population was estimated at 1,093,880 as of April 1, 2013, an increase of 20,773 people since April 1, 2012 (1,073,107) and an increase of 4,073 people from January 1, 2013 (1,089,807).

Economic Growth and Forecasts

According to Statistics Canada's preliminary estimates (released on April 26, 2013), Saskatchewan posted a GDP at basic prices of $55.5B (in 2007 chained dollars) in 2012. This represented an increase of 2.2% in real GDP, compared to 2011. Saskatchewan's real GDP growth of 2.2% ranked third among the provinces in 2012. Eight of the 10 provinces had positive growth in real GDP in 2012, including Alberta at 3.9%, Manitoba at 2.7%, British Columbia (B.C.) at 1.7%, Ontario at 1.4%, Prince Edward Island at 1.2%, Québec at 1.0%, and Nova Scotia at 0.2%. Newfoundland and Labrador (-4.8%) and New Brunswick (-0.6%) recorded declines in GDP. The national average was up by 1.8% in 2012.

Statistics Canada recently released historical revisions to provincial economic accounts data. The revisions align the economic accounts data more closely with new international standards for economic accounting, and are consistent with changes made to the national accounts data released on October 12, 2012. Chained dollar figures are now reported in 2007 dollars. Along with the adoption of the new methodology, Saskatchewan posted the second-best growth in 2011 (+5.0%), after a strong recovery from the global economic downturn in 2010 (+4.5%), according to Statistics Canada. In 2009, the year of the recession, Saskatchewan's economy shrank by 4.2%.

Statistics Canada released preliminary provincial GDP by industry data (from 2007 to 2012) on April 26, 2013. Following the economic accounts revision, Saskatchewan's mining, quarrying and oil and gas extraction industry increased by 5.9% and 0.8% in 2011 and 2012, respectively. Agriculture, forestry, fishing and hunting increased by 8.7% and 1.2% in 2011 and 2012. Saskatchewan's manufacturing GDP advanced by 7.6% and 9.2% in 2011 and 2012. The construction industry decreased by 0.6% in 2012, after an increase of 6.4% in 2011. The utilities sector recorded an increase of 2.3% in 2011, followed by an increase of 1.4% in 2012. Wholesale trade slightly declined by 0.04% in 2012 after an increase of 9.5% in 2011, while retail trade increased by 4.4% and 5.1% in 2011 and 2012, respectively. In summary, the goods-producing industries advanced by 6.4% and 1.8% in 2011 and 2012, while the service sector recorded increases of 3.6% and 2.6%, during this period.

In its Summer 2013 Outlook, the Conference Board of Canada (CBOC) predicts the province's economy will grow by 3.5% and 2.4% in 2013 and 2014, respectively. The 2013 Summer Outlook of the CBOC predicts strong economic growth in Saskatchewan, driven by robust performance in mineral fuels production, construction and manufacturing.

Based on the Summer 2013 Outlook, the CBOC forecasts that real GDP in Saskatchewan's agriculture sector will grow by 1.6% in 2013 and 2.6% in 2014. According to the CBOC, real GDP in mining (including the oil and gas sector) will grow by 3.9% in 2013 and 0.7% in 2014. Manufacturing is forecast to increase by 2.8% in 2013 and 1.9% in 2014.

For the construction sector, the CBOC forecasts growth of 7.6% and 5.9% in 2013 and 2014, respectively. According to projections by the CBOC, utilities will decrease by 2.9% in 2013 and 2.8% in 2014. Overall, the goods-producing industries are forecast to increase by 4.1% in 2013 and 2.2% in 2014.

The CBOC expects the Saskatchewan service sector will grow by 3.0% in 2013 and 2.6% in 2014. The wholesale and retail trade sector is forecast to grow by 7.0% and 3.3% in 2013 and 2014, respectively. The transportation and warehousing sector is expected to see growth of 1.5% in 2013 and 2.2% in 2014. Real GDP in the finance and insurance sector is anticipated to grow by 2.6% in 2013 and 3.4% in 2014. Public administration is expected to grow by 0.2% in 2013 and 1.1% in 2014, respectively.

The CBOC remains optimistic about the province's labour market. It forecasts employment growth of 19,000 (+3.4%) in 2013 and 9,000 (+1.7%) in 2014.

According to the survey results released in June 2013, by Manpower Inc., a multi-national staffing company, employers in Saskatchewan are optimistic about the July to September 2013 period. Of the employers surveyed, 96% in Saskatoon and 93% in Regina expect staffing levels to increase or stay the same during that period. Among the 46 cities surveyed, Regina ranked third, while Saskatoon ranked twelfth.

The exchange rate (the Canadian dollar in U.S. currency) for July 2013 averaged 96.16 cents U.S., a decrease of 2.5%, compared to July 2012. As of August 27, 2013, the Canadian dollar was trading at 0.9547 USD.

On July 17, the Bank of Canada decided to maintain its target for the overnight lending rate at 1.0%. The Bank Rate is correspondingly 1.25%, and deposit rate is 0.75%. Also, in most of the chartered banks, the prime lending rate stands at 3.0%.

The global economy continues to grow modestly, with economic conditions varying significantly across the major economies. The Bank of Canada expects global economic activity to grow modestly in 2013 before strengthening over the following two years. In the words of the Bank, "The U.S. economic expansion is proceeding at a moderate pace, with the continued strengthening in private demand being partly offset by the impact of fiscal consolidation. In Japan, fiscal and monetary policy stimulus is contributing to a rapid recovery in economic growth. In contrast, economic activity in the euro area remains weak. While stronger than in the advanced economies, real GDP growth in China and other emerging market economies has slowed, exerting downward pressure on global commodity prices".

On the domestic front, the Bank observes that economic growth in Canada was stronger than expected in the first quarter of 2013. The Bank expects growth in Canada to remain moderate and start to pick up in the second half of 2013. According to the Bank, "Despite ongoing competitiveness challenges, exports are projected to gather momentum, which should boost confidence and lead to increasingly solid growth in business investment. The economy will also be supported by continued growth in consumer spending, while further modest declines in residential investment are expected. Growth in real GDP is projected to be sufficient to absorb the current material excess capacity in the economy, closing the output gap around mid-2015."

The Bank of Canada's next scheduled date for announcing the overnight rate is September 4, 2013.

On July 31, 2013, the Federal Open Market Committee of the U.S. Federal Reserve maintained its overnight Federal funds rate at the range of 0% to 0.25%. The Federal Reserve currently anticipates that this exceptionally low range for the federal funds rate will be appropriate at least as long as the unemployment rate remains above 6.5%. The unemployment rate in the U.S. was 7.4% in July 2013. The Federal Reserve also projects that inflation between one and two years ahead is no more than a half percentage point above the Committee's 2% long-run goal.

The Federal Open Market Committee's next meeting is scheduled for September 17-18, 2013.
